YPC Community Educator Update

Congratulations 2008-2009 YPC Community Educators! You have completed training and you are now ready to present in schools and community organizations throughout the Austin area. Thanks again for taking the time to attend the practice sessions! Several of you have shown great improvement since attending the practice sessions!

Now that we have completed the presentation training, we will continue to have team meetings twice a month to train you in other areas. These include information about: alcoholic marketing and media techniques, public speaking skills, leadership skills, and more information about underage drinking.

The presentations are getting underway, so be sure to sign up for presentations either at team meetings or via e-mail. You can check the presentation schedule online at the www.youthlaunch.org website on the YPC page. The Google calendar online is updated with all presentation information and is a good resource to turn to for information about dates and contacts for any presentation.

Have a fun and safe Halloween and Thanksgiving!

Leading the efforts to prevent underage drinking,

Laura Blunk
